BALLOON DISASTER.

Prof Colgrove and C. H. Williams Fall Two Hundred Feet at San Francisco and are Killed.

San Francisco, Oct 5—At about half past three this afternoon Prof Colgrove, aeronaut, and C. H Williams, manager of Woodward's Gardens, attempted to make a balloon ascension from the gardens the wind blowing almost a gale The balloon seemed to be insufficiently inflated with gas, and rose heavily above the buildings of the garden It soon after dropped and scudded along at a low elevation tearing away telegraph wires in its flight In a moment the bag ripped and the gas escaped with a roar heard for blocks Both occupants of the basket were thrown out, falling on Folsom street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, while the balloon came down a few rods beyond A great crowd from the gardens and vicinity instantly collected and medical assistance was summoned Williams was fearfully crushed about the face and head and died in a few moments Colgroves face was somewhat bruised but his injuries seemed mostly internal and although alive at last accounts, he was insensible and not likely to survive The disaster has created a considerable sensation and many who frequent the gardens assert that the balloon was badly patched and unsafe at best and express surprise at Williams risking the ascension, especially in such boisterous weather

San Francisco, Oct 5—Prof Colgrove has since died from his injuries Prof Martin aeronaut, and others who were present at the ascension begged Mr Williams not to go up saying that in half the gale that was blowing he was literally taking his life in his hands The men fell about 200 feet, the balloon rebounding after striking telegraph wires, then striking a chimney and again rebounding at which moment the aeronauts were thrown out

THE OREGON STATE FAIR.

SATURDAY FOURTH DAY

Increased Attendance—a Measurable Success in spite of the Weather—a Sorry Trot and a Good Run—Parade of Horses—Secretary Waite Fully Exonerated from the Advocate's Charges—Entries for Monday and Tuesday's Races Etc.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN

State Fair Grounds Oct 18

The weather was cold and windy in the forenoon yesterday and stormy with a heavy rain in the afternoon It commenced sprinkling just as the races closed and soon grew into a fierce driving rain compelling the people on the grounds to seek shelter in the pavilion which afforded ample room for all

ENTRIES CLOSED

The time for entering articles for exhibition closed last evening at 6 o'clock and the books of the secretary show a creditable number the receipts from this source being larger than last year while the receipts from booth rents admissions to the grounds and to the grand stand etc, considerably more than for a corresponding period in 1878 So it will be seen that

THE FAIR IS NOT A FAILURE,

The assertions of its enemies and of croakers to the contrary notwithstanding Nor will it ever be a failure with the men who are at the head of it They are among the most energetic citizens of Oregon and don't know the word fail They have brought it up from a small beginning and but for the fact of unfavorable weather for three years in succession including the present would have been clear of a society debt with money enough to make all the necessary improvements and to have greatly enlarged their premiums for the encouragement of the productions which make a people prosperous wealthy and comfortable was held in 1861 near Oregon City and the statement of the financial results as made by Hon E. Heath recording secretary shows that the receipts for tickets admissions and licenses were $ 44 ... amount paid for premiums $ 58 other expenses $442 07 The treasurer's report for '78 showed the receipt of $5 ... and disbursements about equal in amount This is a growth which those who have fostered this interest have cause to be proud of and the intimation that the managers or others have made money out of it can only be malice or ignorance

THE FIRST FAIR

THE MANAGEMENT

The following is the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges made by the Pacific Christian Advocate against E M Waite, secretary, and the officers and managers of the Oregon state agricultural society

We the committee appointed to investigate certain matters would respectfully submit:

Whereas An article in the Pacific Christian Advocate of Sept 25th called Oregon State Fair does great injustice to the managers and particularly to the secretary of the society by stating on rumor, that it is a rendezvous for gamblers whisky sellers and prostitutes that the Sabbath is desecrated; that the secretary is in full accord with these things and that through bribes and sympathy with these people large sums are annually squandered that horse racing all forms of gambling, whisky selling and prostitution are encouraged by this man (the secretary) and his companions and that on these accounts the fair is no longer encouraged by many of the best citizens of the state, and that it will soon be given up to the worst elements on this coast

And whereas, none of these grave and highly damaging charges in said article have a shadow of truth therefore we the board of managers deem it proper to make a statement through a committee of three appointed by a former and full meeting of the board to the patrons of the Fair showing the management of the same by the secretary and his companions, which includes the worthy president and the board of managers honorable men elected from every county of the state

We hold and emphatically assert that the men who have been at the head of the affair as officers and managers ticket venders and gate keepers superintendents marshals and committeemen have been selected from as honest and honorable a community as could be found in any part of the United States and that for business tact they have shown a fair ability, in that they have brought up the Fair from a small beginning to its present magnitude where some twenty thousand dollars are handled in a short time of two weeks the expenditures of which are accounted for item by item in the annual report of the secretary to which we invite the editor for reference, before launching out such slanderous statements upon rumor and we invite all the patrons of the Fair to scrutinize the table of receipts and expenditures.

Furthermore, we would state that a finance committee of three is appointed by the president annually to investigate the secretary's report The committee two years ago was composed of H Hanson of Multnomah, Alf Luelling and Dr Davenport last year of Henry Miller of Portland Seth Luelling of Clackamas and A J Lafur of Wasco and would the editor say that these men are in accord with the secretary in taking bribes encouraging gambling protecting prostitution and squandering large sums of money? or to connive to desecrate the Sabbath? Some of these men are members in good standing in churches and all are men of integrity and worth These committees found the accounts correct

Furthermore we would state that the secretary was indefatigable in accomplishing the erection of our beautiful new pavilion an ornament to any Fair costing over $4000 all of which was contributed by citizens of Salem and vicinity mainly through the exertions of our honorable secretary

That some mistakes have been made that some lewd fellows of the baser sort carry on their nefarious occupations we must with sorrow admit but where is the blessed spot upon this green earth that this is not done? and where is the business firm that makes no mistakes in its ventures

That Providence did not smile upon us for the last two years in giving us fair weather is the cause of the falling off of our receipts Could the secretary and his associates help that? If we have propitious sunshine next week we can square accounts of floating debt. This society is not bankrupt nor will men who have in the infancy of the society put their shoulders to the wheel by borrowing money on their individual notes or those who are carrying the debt now on their individual responsibility see the society die

Also, instead of allowing desecration of the Sabbath, the society has encouraged the Y M C Association in its good work as far as asked for

After these statements can the Advocate do less than to give this paper an insertion in its columns? so as at least to make some amends for the injury done through said article to the honor and good name of the managers and to the finances by its publication just before the opening of the fair

Fair criticism upon facts we invite from press and patrons, but not upon rumors and we invite all to come and see for themselves and we particularly invite the editor of the P. C. Advocate, to come and see for himself, that in all Christian charity he may judge of these things whether they are so or not.

SATURDAY'S RACES

Faustina having the pole took the lead and for the first half appeared to have some show of getting the heat but on beginning the second half Parrott and Patchen began to forge ahead and soon had things their own way except for one another On the home stretch the contest was very close Patchen having the advantage of a length to begin with but Parrott by a hard effort lapped the sorrel when the excitement of the spectators was wrought up to the highest pitch At the distance pole Parrott broke and ran a very narrow chance of losing the heat but his driver who was driving him had him well in hand and brought him down to his work in the nick of time, coming under the wire about a half a length ahead winning the heat in 2 ... and the race

In the afternoon at 1 ... call was made for the single dash of a mile free for all Only two horses appeared Glen Dudley by imported Glencoe, a bay stallion recently purchased in Kentucky and brought to this state by Jerome A. Porter and Flora A thoroughbred filly with some of the fastest crosses of the country In her veins ... Dudley drew the pole and they were sent off on the first score the stallion leading however from the word with apparent ease and winning the heat in 1 50 The wind was blowing a gale and Dudley's rider made no effort at speed or we should probably have seen the best time ever made on his track Mr Porter has in Dudley a horse of which he is justly proud He shows all the fine points of his blood in an eminent degree Good judges say that had it not been for the gale and his rider had seen fit his record would have been as low as 1 47

A trot of 3 in 5 mile heats was next called in which were entered Hegeles Western Chief Wethers Glassford and Sterritt's Kelly the race being for horses that had never beaten ... Kelly being a judge not a time it was sent to ... a bay gelding belonging to Mr Brey of Salem ... and ... in favor of Kelly were declared ... and Glassford became the favorite selling ... against the field On the third score the three got ... well together but the race was hardly close enough to be interesting Western Chief and Brey's bay breaking badly while Glassford had it all his own way taking the lead at the quarter and leaving more and more space between him self and his competitors to the wire and ... in came ... the Chief and the bay failing to save their distance The race was adjudged to Glassford and the day's sport closed

Sunday Fair

To day the attendance on the grounds is perhaps ... hundred including about seventy five who came on the special train from Portland The roads are getting very muddy from the heavy rains of yesterday and to day and the most of the people here are not in a religious frame of mind though the Sabbath services at the Y M C A hall were largely attended by a quiet and orderly audience An able sermon was preached by Rev Dr Atkinson at 11 A M and further services held at 3 P M A sermon will also be preached at the same place this evening The religious people have made their place of worship as comfortable as possible but a great majority of the visitors to the grounds do not seem so much inclined to sit and listen to a sermon however good as to ramble about the grounds or through the pavilion, and talking about worldly matters The booths are ostensibly closed but Sunday law is not more strictly observed on the fair ground than in the city.

MISCELLANEOUS

There is some speculation as to when the fair will close but the general impression is that it will terminate on Friday or Saturday next This is not official however

The booth keepers are somewhat discouraged but some of them say they will make enough to save themselves

The shows on the ground are doing almost nothing so far though Mr Maguire who is giving a series of first class entertainments at the opera house in Salem is doing a fair business

The Aurora restaurant a necessity for visitors, is also doing well Very few Portlanders go elsewhere for a meal on the fair grounds

Good order prevails generally and though there seems a considerable of the hoodlum element here they have not made any serious trouble yet beyond picking a few pockets in no case however making much of a haul

There is, it may not be unnecessary a good deal of red tape connected with the management of the matter of admission to the grounds and the grand stand It is often required of visitors to show their tickets even in passing but if they desire to enter again the same day Messrs E T Ferkin and Martin Angle who have charge of the railroad gate understand their business and manage so that there is no trouble or delay They are the right men in the right place The managers however could scarcely have selected a more incompetent man than the old gentleman who stands at the east entrance at the grand stand

Such an array of horse knowledge and sin is seldom seen as was on front seat in the Y M C A hall this afternoon where sat Jim Bybee Bill Bybee Jim Tatom and John F Miller Capt Wilkinson was hardly able to do the subject justice

OTHER RACES

On Monday, with a good day and track there will be some excellent sport in racing circles. First on the programme is a running race for two year olds single dash of one mile $400 to first, two thirds of remainder to second and balance of stake to third The entries in this race closed June 1st and there are now entered, Jim Merritt, owned by A J Stanley Vinegar owned by Joseph Lamar of Walla Walla Lulu Lindsay by Bybee & Miller and Steeltrap by J G Baskett. They are all good colts with much fine blood in their veins

There will also be a running race for Oregon raised horses all ages mile heats, two in three for a premium of $250 In this race Lowndale has entered Mayflower Tennant Sank Owens and Taylor Olo all well known flyers and with a good track we will see excellent time

On Tuesday will be the running race for two year olds mile heats two in three first premium $400 and second premium $100 entries not yet made and a trot for three year olds three in five in which the entries closed on June 1st, and number in all fourteen

In this boot the counter is covered by a piece of leather extending from under the sole to some three inches above the upper edge of the counter or in other words, the counter is between the leather of the boot and the protector and is not exposed either on the outside or the inside of the boot consequently the heel does not touch it at all thus one of the greatest objections to boots—the trouble of getting the heel over the counter or stiffening—is removed This is an object of great importance to the consumer both in economy and comfort On this point we need only appeal to the thousands who wear boots

HERCULES.

HERCULES.

Another advantage gained by this arrangement is that the same piece of leather that covers and protects the counter also extends beyond the side seams covering those seams thereby greatly increasing their strength Again in the old style boot the leg is liable to sag or fall around the ankle but in

HERCULES.

The Hercules Boot this is rendered less liable by the counter protector as it doubles the leather at the point where the sagging usually takes place

HERCULES

All boots—mens boys and youths—may be manufactured with this improvement though it is most desirable in heavy boots where great strength is required

PROOFS FROM SOUTHERN JOURNALS.

Southern journals discuss the political affairs of their section very freely, throwing a clear light upon the methods and the policy there in vogue of enforcing political unanimity. Few of them resort either to denial or apology. In Mississippi most of them frankly say that the negroes would be republican if freedom of action were allowed and led by a minority of the whites there would be a party strong enough to overthrow democratic supremacy. Hence these independent or republican white leaders shall not be permitted to mass the negro vote." That is, there shall be no freedom of political action in certain states. In order that it be seen that this statement does not misrepresent the position taken by the supporters of the southern political despotism, let the following from the Yazoo City (Miss.) Herald be considered:

The people of Yazoo county are agreed upon one point, and that is that no man or set of men shall achieve official preferment by massing colored voters against the whites, especially if this has to be done by resorting to means which are pernicious in theory and dangerous in practice. The interests of any country can't afford to be jeopardized by any such means.

This is put forth as a defense of the killing of Dixon and of the determination of "the best citizens of Yazoo" to tolerate no independent or opposition party. Now the negroes have a constitutional right to vote and the liberty of "massing their votes" if they please. Such action would be only an expression of opinions at the ballot box in the manner provided by law. But, we have been told that for several years the negroes in no small numbers have been freely voting with the democrats, and it is certain that a good many southern whites are independents or republicans. Hence party division there is not strictly on the color line. But if it were it certainly could not be more reprehensible for black voters to mass on one side than for white voters to mass on the other. All parties try to mass votes, but it seems that it is a crime only when there is an attempt to "mass" against the party of the solid south. And proof of this crime, with determination of the necessity of taking action upon it, is to be left to the judgment of those who have a political interest in resorting to assassination to defeat an opponent.

In all the southern states there are many whites who do not act with the democratic party. True, in most localities they are a minority. When these whites appear as leaders of a republican or an independent movement, most of the blacks who naturally do not like the party which so long oppressed them, follow their standard or "mass" on their side. Wherever there is a movement of this kind which appears to be formidable enough to threaten the ascendency of the party of the solid south, it is put down by violence. It is not only the negroes who are suppressed, but the white minority also. In other localities, where there are strong and undoubted democratic majorities, bulldozing is not employed. As a result the republicans get quite a large vote, white and colored, in those southern states which they can't carry, and no vote at all in those states which they could carry if free elections were allowed. This may be illustrated by very telling figures. [illegible], with but 70,000 colored voters, polled in 1876 110,000 republican ballots. [illegible], with 44,000 colored voters, threw in 1876 97,000 republican votes. Missouri, with but 24,000 colored voters gave Hayes [illegible] votes. Tennessee, with 64,000 colored voters, gave him 90,000 ballots, and Maryland, with 40,000 voters, 72,000. In all these states there was a strong increase of the republican vote over that of any former year. Look now at the other side of it. In 1872, a year of peace and order, Mississippi threw 82,000 republican votes, and the state was republican by a large majority. In 1876, a year of riot, tumult and bulldozing, but 52,000 republican votes were cast, and in 1878 only 2066 republicans dared to vote in the entire state. We need not give the corresponding figures for Louisiana, Alabama and South Carolina, all republican states in former elections but now throwing no republican vote at all.

A controversy has been going on between two democratic journals in Vicksburg which throws light on this subject. The Herald, a democratic journal of that city, which sees the necessity of moderation, condemns strongly the policy of political intimidation and murder. The Commercial, a rabid Bourbon journal, venomously attacks the Herald, going even to the length of suggesting a suspicion that its contemporary must be edited by some northern renegade. While the Herald denounces the shot-gun policy, the Commercial declares that its associate is making mountains of mole-hills. 'Nobody,' it says, "knows better than the Herald that what our enemies facetiously call the shot-gun policy, has long since been abandoned, as neither necessary nor adapted to the times." In this statement there is at once an admission and a revelation. The assertion that the policy has been "abandoned" is a clear confession that it has once been in use. At the same time recent events do not look much like it had been "abandoned," and this is the opinion of one of the Vicksburg papers, though the other as strongly protests that there is now no "shotgun" policy as it did formerly when defending the system which it now admits was once employed, but has been "abandoned." On the whole the evidence of these acts of violence, with their objects and results, is coming now more clearly to the country than ever before, overcoming incredulity and establishing conviction. The country, it may be admitted, is tired of the "bloody shirt." Then let the democratic party put it out of sight.

ORIGIN OF THE OUTBREAK.

In the effort to reclaim the Indian from barbarism and to introduce him to the peaceful ways of self-supporting industry resistance is often met with which results in his being chastised and civilized through more energetic means. Of a contumacious tribe half are killed, and the rest thereafter are more tractable. Gunpowder doesn't always get the credit due it as an agent of peace and civilization. Just now there is serious difficulty with the Utes of Colorado. The origin of it is extremely simple. At White river reservation there is a large body of good land. Government is of opinion that this land might as well be employed in producing food for the Indians and so ordered large tracts of it ploughed. But the Indians have large bands of horses and want the land for pasturage, claiming at the same time that government is bound to supply them with food. Hence they objected to having the land ploughed and commanded the agent to desist. He of course refused to comply, when they shot one of his men. Afterwards they made an assault upon the agent. He was compelled to stop ploughing, but notified the authorities at Washington. Troops were at once sent forward to protect the agency and the surrounding country which the Indians had begun to raid. They also fired Middle Park. As the troops approached the Indians made the attack on them which has been reported. It is feared that the agent, his family and employes have all been murdered. In fact there is no reason to hope the contrary. The fate of the troops is as yet unknown. It is to be hoped that these Indians will be effectively dealt with. A more causeless and wanton outbreak has rarely been reported. The breech-loader will soon prepare the way for the plough on that reservation so that if any Indians are left after the [illegible] work of the breech loader is ended. If there are none left the reservation will make a good settlement for people who [illegible] much to the plough.

If ever any government has applied the principle of protection in a way which [illegible] to the intelligence [illegible] in America. That is in a year of scarcity, when great quantities of food must be imported, a tariff has been laid on imported breadstuffs and provisions. Under the argument that home industry must be protected, government steps in and makes food for the masses in hard times still harder to get. The new tariff which went into effect at the beginning of the present month lays these duties on food: On wheat, rye, oats and roots 10 cents per 100 pounds, barley, corn and buckwheat 4 100 cents per 100 pounds, malt 1[illegible] cents per 100 pounds, lard $1 00 per 100 pounds, meats $1 [illegible] per 100 pounds. The deficiency in breadstuffs in the empire this year is so large that these taxes will be paid by consumers in the way of increased cost of food on both the domestic and imported bread. The law of course forces up the price of all the food in the empire by just the amount of the tariff rates, compelling the poor and hungry masses to pay tribute to those who control the food markets. As a just and enlightened policy this is about equal to our own tariff system, which is designed to oppress consumers by giving special classes of tradespeople a chance to put up prices and speculate upon the necessities of the people at large. True, with us a protective tariff is not levied upon articles of food because we have food for export, but such tariff is levied upon other articles of universal consumption, and the result is the same. But the German people, if they had a free representative government would not endure the oppressive system which our people have so long tolerated through want of proper enlightenment.

Gen Hancock begins to loom up as a democratic candidate for the presidency against the cipher statesman. The New York World is for Hancock. A H Stephens has pronounced for him and a bureau is organizing at Washington City to be in readiness to work him to the front by the time congress assembles. Washington correspondence of the Philadelphia Press states that the supporters of this movement have also been actively engaged for some weeks in collecting the many interviews with southern politicians and members of congress that have appeared in the newspapers in which dissatisfaction and disgust were expressed at the prospect of Tilden's renomination. These are to be reprinted in pamphlet form and circulated over the country and especially in the south. The friends of the proposed new candidate expect to receive a strong support from the south and west and claim that they already have such assurances from both these sections as will render it impossible for Mr Tilden and his adherents to capture the next national democratic convention and again foist himself upon the party for the struggle of 1880.

John Russell Young, the New York Herald correspondent who has been with General Grant during his whole foreign tour, says if he were asked on his honor or his oath what the general thinks about the suggestion that the presidency might be again offered him, he could not tell, though they have conversed on nearly every subject. He thinks however, that Grant "would not turn his hand either way" and that he will not take any action in reference to the matter until it becomes necessary to do so. He says the general has not written a word concerning politics to any person since he has been gone and is confident he could not be induced to lend himself to any scheme looking to his renomination.

The parliamentary election in England next year will take place somewhere about the time of our presidential election. It is certain that the present ministry will have a hard fight to maintain their ascendency, and very probable that they will be completely beaten. Mr. Gladstone and Mr Bright are to open the contest this month in speeches at Manchester. It will be an aggressive campaign against the Beaconsfield government mainly on his foreign policy.

The first notice which Gen Grant received of the unfounded rumor of the death of his daughter, Mrs. Sartoris, was a dispatch at Yokohama, saying, "Rumor of Nellie's death untrue." This was all, and he could get no further information. He was as much shocked as mystified, and received no explanation until the City of Tokio was met by the pilot boat off San Francisco.

TO JOURNEYMEN TAILORS

JOURNEYMEN TAILORS WHO COME TO Portland are requested to call at the Tailors Union back shop No 93½ Front st. This is done to guard strange tailors from working for W J Quinn, as he refuses to sign the bill of prices which the leading merchant tailors of Portland have signed. The majority of Quinn's jours are women, as white "jours" refuse to work for him except one man who is not regarded by the Union as a mechanic. o6d6t TAILORS UNION

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 6, 1[illegible]

CITY.

A MURDEROUS INDIAN.—At an early hour Sunday morning Officer Branch attempted to arrest a drunken siwash named Jack Sullivan alias "Skamokawa Jack," who was very boisterous. Jack whipped out a long knife, and with the threat, "you have helped to arrest me twice, and I'll kill you," he advanced toward Branch. He made a murderous thrust at that officer, but missed his aim. Branch dealt the sanguinary siwash a heavy blow on one side his head, which felled him. Jack rose to his feet and made a second lunge, but was again knocked down by the officer. Two men then came to his rescue and after a desperate struggle, the Indian was disarmed. In the struggle the siwash cut one of the men in the wrist and the other in the back of the hand. Two other officers arrived on the scene, and after a fierce and prolonged struggle, Jack was taken to the city jail. A charge of assault with intent to kill was entered against the Indian, and he will stand a good chance to make tracks for the state. Jack has been a deck hand on the steamer [illegible], and, when in liquor, is a very dangerous fellow. He has served out one term in the penitentiary.

GRANT'S VISIT TO OREGON.—The San Francisco Alta of Oct. 1st says: "During Gen. Grant's visit to Oregon Mrs Grant will remain in the city as the guest of Mrs. George [illegible], at her residence on Octavia street. She will be the recipient of a number of dinner parties on the part of her personal friends. As Mrs. Stanford's health will not permit of a reception at their city residence, Gen. Grant will visit the Palo Alto ranche, near Menlo Park, the country residence of the governor, and have an opportunity of inspecting the fancy stock in the stables and field. The reception to be given by Senator Sharon at Belmont takes place on the 8th inst. The St. Paul is now lying at Front street wharf, receiving her supply of coal for the trip to Portland. The date of her departure has not been definitely settled, as it will depend entirely on the disposition of our distinguished guest and on the length of his stay at Yosemite. Some necessary alterations will be made in the cabins of the St. Paul in order to lessen the fatigues of the trip as much as possible."

A SHAMELESS FAIR.—It is seldom on the Pacific coast than an instance of cheek so impudent and shameful occurs as related to us by a gentleman who came down on the west side road on Saturday evening's train. The train stopped at Aurora for supper, and most of the passengers left their seat, trusting to good fortune to secure them on their return, all seats being regarded as free to whoever comes first. A fellow of genteel dress and appearance—appearances are often deceiving—upon returning to the seat which he had vacated, found it occupied by two ladies without an escort, and instead of accepting the situation as any man of decency would have done, reminded them that the seat was his, basing his claim upon his former occupancy. Greatly embarrassed, the ladies arose and stood in the aisle while the boor with another of his kind ensconced themselves in the seat. We sincerely regret that the names of the precious pair are not known, that they might be advertised to public contempt.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.—Saturday afternoon, when the Cascade boat arrived at Vancouver on her way to this city, Sheriff Crossen, who was a passenger, received a telegram ordering him to arrest a man named [illegible], who also was on board. Halber[illegible], a Norwegian, and from the accurate description given Crossen had no trouble in finding his man. On the arrival of the boat Sheriff Crossen took the man to headquarters, where he will be detained until taken to The Dalles.

ATTEMPT TO ASSAULT.—The old man John [illegible], who was arrested a few weeks ago charged with attempting to commit an outrage on a little girl, was indicted by the grand jury of Clackamas county for the crime of assault with intent to commit rape. Foster appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty. This plea was accepted by the district attorney and Foster was fined $50, and in default was committed to the county jail for [illegible] days. Foster is thought to be partially insane.

VISITORS COMING.—Most of the interior papers announce that many persons express a determination to avail themselves of the low rates which have been secured, and accept the public invitation extended by the committee to visit Portland during Gen. Grant's sojourn. From reports which reach us from various portions of this state and Washington territory, it is safe to predict an unusual crowd on the occasion of Grant's arrival in Portland.

CHANGE OF VENUE DENIED.—We understand that the lawyers for Barnard and Fairchild made a motion for change of venue, but the application was denied by Judge Bellinger. The grounds stated were prejudice, inconvenience and expense in attending court, and on the ground that many of the witnesses for the defense were favorably known in the community and that more credence would be given their testimony than it deserved.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At the annual meeting of the Congregation Beth-Israel yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: B. Goldsmith, president; M [illegible], vice president; J. Strauss, financial secretary; [illegible] Kohn, recording secretary; J. [illegible], treasurer; S. Blumauer and D. [illegible], trustees. School directors—A. Waldman, [illegible] Lyon and A. Meier.

HELD TO ANSWER.—A man named John Swager has been arrested and brought before Commissioner Lamson on a charge of cutting timber on government land. Swager waived examination and was held to answer, furnishing the required bonds he [illegible].

UNIFORMS RECEIVED.—The uniforms for the postal delivery carriers arrived on the steamer, and will soon be donned. The suits are of deep grey with caps of same to match. The carriers will present a neat appearance attired in these suits.

RELEASED.—Sergeant Nee has been discharged from custody by United States Commissioner Lamson. Nee, it will be remembered, was arrested some days ago charged with selling government property and converting the proceeds to his own use.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.—Judge C. B. Bellinger on Saturday sentenced James A. King, convicted of murder in the second degree, to imprisonment for life. King's counsel made no motion for a new trial, nor was any notice of an appeal given in the case.

NEW POSTAL AGENT.—Mr. George Seybolt of Omaha, the gentleman who has been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the removal of Postal Agent Geo. A. Steel, is expected to arrive here on the next steamer from San Francisco.

SHIP ARRIVED.—A dispatch from Astoria to the Merchants' Exchange says that the British ship Victoria Cross has arrived there from San Francisco.

BRUTALITY ON THE HIGH SEAS.

CAPT. SWAN OF THE BARK ANNE MAIN CHARGED BY J. D. TULLOCH, THE FIRST OFFICER, WITH CRUEL AND INHUMAN CONDUCT—THE CHARGES TO BE INVESTIGATED—COUNTER CHARGES BY THE CAPTAIN.

The British bark Anne Main arrived at this port at an early hour Saturday morning, and now lies moored at the foot of Alder street. The Anne Main came from Adelaide, Australia, and is commanded by Capt James Swan, an Englishman, aged about [illegible] years. Serious charges are preferred against Capt. Swan by J. D. Tulloch, the first officer of the vessel. Tulloch charges the captain with brutal and inhuman treatment received during the passage of the vessel to this port, and while on the high seas. These charges have been made in writing and signed by Tulloch. He alleges that on one occasion Capt. Swan attempted to murder him with an ax, but was prevented by the steward, who interfered and took the dangerous weapon away. From what the first officer states, Swan must be either a brute in human shape or else insane at times. Among other instances, Tulloch states the following:

"During the voyage one of the men fell overboard after the ship left Adelaide. The captain gave orders to the mate that if any one fell overboard again, the man would have to pick himself up, as he was not going out of his way to do it. The Anne Main has been out from home eighteen months, and during the entire time Capt. Swan has always been in trouble, having had four different mates and six stewards during the voyage. Aside from his being fined at Adelaide for cruel treatment, he was required to pay over $300 at San Francisco for 'shanghaing' two men at Rio Janeiro, and has had more or less trouble with every one aboard his vessel."

James Laidlaw, Esq., British vice consul in this city, has been notified of the charges made against Capt. Swan and will make a thorough examination of the same. He has summoned a naval court before which body the charges can be investigated. One or more officials from Victoria will probably arrive and compose part of the court. The court will probably convene here this week.

LETTER FROM CAPT. SWAN.

BARK ANNE MAIN, PORTLAND Oct. 5, 1879.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: In reference to an article headed "Brutality at Sea," which appeared in the Standard to-day, I beg to inform you that it is all a tissue of falsehoods which I, (James Swan) am prepared to prove to the satisfaction of all interested in the welfare of seamen. I can prove beyond a doubt of John Donald Tulloch's voluntary services to ill use my men, and how I have kept them in check. I think it is possible likewise to prove him a mutineer; and one totally unfit to be an officer of any vessel. I trust the naval court will be able to find him guilty on the charges I have lodged. I likewise offered him his discharge in Adelaide after being three weeks in the vessel, for his misbehavior. He would not take it except he got three months' wages. Any man of spirit would have taken his discharge, as he was at fault. I beg of you to give this publicity, as my character is at stake. I remain, sir, yours truly,

JAS. SWAN, Master Anne Main.

FIRE MATTERS GENERALLY.

All the steam fire engines are in first-class working order.

The department is pretty well supplied with good serviceable hose.

The Board of Firemen will meet at the police court rooms this evening.

The question of chief engineer is looming up. From appearances there will be three Richmonds in the field.

It is probable there will be a delegation of the Portland Fire Department present at the coming Grant reception. An invitation has been extended the department.

Mr. A. B. Hallock is an independent candidate for the office of chief engineer subject to the votes of the members of this department.

The common council refused to pay a bill of $23 incurred by Chief Engineer Morgan at the time of the fire on North Second street, between E and F, in employing several men to play on the smouldering flames for five or six hours, and also in removing a large quantity of lumber which was threatened. Chief Engineer Morgan did what he deemed was best for the city, and it seems nothing more than right that the bill should be paid. It could not be expected that firemen would play for nothing on the fire all night after being drenched to the skin.

Tom Merry, of the Inland Empire, in speaking of the recent purchase of the fire engine for The Dalles, says: "If ever there was a good move made by our citizens it was in the purchase of the Amoskeag engine now used by Jackson engine company. On Monday afternoon of this week a fire broke out in a barn used by Joshua French, and located at the rear of Samuel L. Brooks' residence on Third street. The building contained considerable hay, and would have made a bad spread to the surrounding houses but that Wasco company got first to work and held the flames in check till the steamer got to working and put one stream on the burning building, while she scattered the other on the adjacent buildings, making assurance doubly sure."

The Astorian of October 4th contains the following: If everything is in good order, and it is expected that will be the case, Mr. Everson will make a test of Astoria Fire Engine Co.'s new steamer to-day. In order that the engine may be suitably received, the members of the company to which she has been assigned are making arrangements for a general good time, to which the entire department will be invited. At a special meeting of Astoria Engine company No. 1 last evening, it was resolved that chief engineer and assistants, Rescue Engine company No. 2, and Alert Hook and Ladder company No. 1, be invited to assist in housing their new steam fire engine, immediately after the test and acceptance by the city authorities. It was also resolved that the company prepare for a regular housing and housewarming to be held one week from next Wednesday. For which purpose the officers of the company were elected a committee.

TAKING THE TENTH CENSUS.

Capt. R. H. Lamson is in receipt of several circular letters from the department at Washington which furnish much valuable information in reference to taking the tenth census of the United States. The work of taking the census will not commence until next June, according to the recent law passed by congress. Oregon is entitled to only one supervisor who has charge of the different enumerators who may be appointed. Capt. Lamson will cheerfully furnish information to any one who may call at his office in the Post Office building.

Among other letters the following has been received:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15, 1879.

The following facts, relative to the organization of the census service, are communicated for the information of all concerned.

SUPERVISORS.

The census is to be taken under the direction of officers to be styled "supervisors of census," one or more for each state or territory, not exceeding one hundred and fifty for all the states and territories, to be appointed by the president by and with the advice and consent of the senate. It is provided by law that each supervisor of census shall, upon the completion of his duties to the satisfaction of the secretary of the interior, receive the sum of $500 in full compensation for all services rendered and expenses incurred by him, except that an allowance for clerk hire may be made, at the discretion of the superintendent of census. It is not the intention of the department to make an allowance for clerk hire exceeding $500 in any but the largest supervisors' districts, where the population considerably exceeds the average.

The supervisors' districts, one or more for each state or territory, are to be formed by the secretary of the interior; and an announcement will be made of the number of supervisors for each state or territory, and of the extent and boundaries of the several supervisors' districts, not earlier than October 15, 1879. Applications for appointment to the position of supervisor of census may be addressed to the secretary of the interior. The nominations to this office may be made before the meeting of congress in December.

ENUMERATORS.

The actual work of enumeration within the supervisor's district will be performed by officers to be styled enumerators, who will be designated to the superintendent of census, at Washington by the supervisor.

The rules and rates of compensation for enumerators will be determined by the secretary of the interior, and due announcement will be made thereof, not later than the date of nomination of supervisors aforesaid.

Enumeration districts are not allowed by law to exceed four thousand inhabitants, according to the census of 1870. It is the view of the department, in the majority of instances enumeration districts should be much below the maximum indicated, and that only for the strongest reasons should more than one township in states where townships exist, be comprised in an enumeration district. It follows from what has been stated above, that application for appointments to the position of enumerator should be addressed to the supervisor of the district in which the applicant resides. Hence, applications prior to the appointment of supervisors are premature, and can be of no service to persons desiring appointments as enumerators.

THE CENSUS OFFICE.

The census office at Washington has been organized by the appointment of Mr. Francis A. Walker as superintendent of census. No appointments to clerkships in that office, not already determined upon, will be made prior to May 1, 1880. Applications for appointment in the census office will, therefore be in ample season if received at the department of the interior by April 10, 1880. No preference in appointment will be given to any one by reason of earlier application. Appointments in the census office will be made only upon examination to determine the qualifications of the applicants for the position sought. Extracts from the standing regulations of the department, governing applications for appointment will be found appended.

C. SCHURZ, Secretary.

REGULATIONS.

I. Every application must be made in the handwriting of the applicant to the head of the department. It must state; (1) applicant's name in full; (2) place and date of birth; (3) legal residence and how long it has been such; (4) education; (5) occupation past and present; (6) whether ever employed in the civil service, and if so when, how long, in what branch and capacity and reasons for leaving the service; (7) whether ever in the regular or volunteer army or navy, and if so, when, and in what organization and capacity.

II. The applicant must certify to having composed and written the application without assistance; to the truth of the statements which it contains; as to being a citizen of the United States, and faithful to the union and constitution; if ever in the regular army or navy, to having been honorably discharged.

III. Every application must be accompanied by a certificate signed by two trustworthy and responsible persons, well known in the community in which they reside; that the applicant is personally well known to them to be of good moral character, and of temperate and industrious habits.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.

Saturday Chief Besser received the following dispatch:

TRACY, Cal., Oct. 3, 1879.

To the Chief of Police: A complaint upon oath having this day been laid before me by Louis Walter that the crime of grand larceny has been committed, and accusing one A. Johnson, of Tulare township, thereof. You are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the above named A. Johnson and bring him before me forthwith at my office in said township in said county of San Joaquin, or in case of my absence or inability to act, then before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in this county.

WM. B. HAY,
Justice of the Peace of said Township.

Johnson came up on the last steamer, and since his arrival here has been stopping at the Clarendon hotel. A description of him having been obtained through a letter sent to Col. Dudley Evans, of the express office in this city, Chief Besser had no difficulty in finding his man. He arrested Johnson Saturday and committed him to the city jail. The prisoner is a rather prepossessing man. He was formerly a fireman on the Central Pacific railroad. Johnson is accused of taking $200 in currency from Tracy. He says he was expecting that sum from the east, and was notified that the money was at the express office for him. The money was addressed to "A. Johnson," and the prisoner was identified and drew the money. It turns out that the money was for another man named A. Johnson. This is the story the prisoner tells. He was greatly surprised when called upon by the chief. No effort was made by him to change his name or disguise in any manner his identity. Johnson will be held in custody until the necessary papers can be obtained from the governor of California.

The large stock of Comstock & Pfluger's is being sold at cost. Many are taking advantage of the circumstances.

R. C. Janion & Co. beg to recommend to the trade Ind Coope & Co.'s India Pale Ale, and the celebrated "Pig Brand," (Guinness') Porter.

Her sisters, cousins and aunts were not satisfied until Abell gave each and all a sitting at his famous Gallery, which is becoming more popular daily.

Nabob Whisky is recommended by the faculty for family and medical use. It is pure and is the best whisky on the Pacific coast for indigestion, nervousness and dyspepsia.

D. W. Prentice & Co. have just received the last invoice of a new and select stock of sheet music, comprising the latest and best music from large publishers both in Europe and this country. This, together with their already large stock gives them by far the largest selection in that line ever brought to this city.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

STEAM CARPET CLEANING.

Leave orders for Steam Carpet, Blanket and Mattress cleaning at Victor Voney's picture store, next door to Weeks & Morgan's old stand, cor. Third and Morrison sts., and at Weeks & Morgan's, Front street, between Main and Madison.

THE PURPOSE OF THE PYRAMID

THE PROBLEM SOLVED AT LAST—A TRIUMPH OF COMMON SENSE OVER THE DOGMAS OF SCIENCE FALSELY SO CALLED

[From the New York Times]

The pyramids have given an immense amount of trouble to antiquarians For what purpose they were built has for ages been classed by our ablest philosophers in the category of those things which no fellow of any learned society can find out The hotel keepers of Cairo believe that the pyramids were built in the interests of the hotel business. Mr. Henry M. Field, who informs us that he stretched himself at full length on the so-called royal sarcophagus of the pyramid of Cheops, is of the opinion that they were erected in a prophetic spirit to the greater glory of the Field family. Many superficial thinkers have hastily concluded that the pyramids were merely intended as royal tombs, and Mr. Piazzi Smith has written a powerful book to prove that they were built in the interests of religion astronomy and mensuration Mr Smith's theory is unquestionably the most interesting of them all, although it lacks the simplicity and directness of the Field theory There is no doubt in Mr Smith's mind that the builders of the pyramids—or, rather the builder of the great pyramid—embodied in its construction the chief facts of astronomy, the standard measures of distance, weight, and capacity, and a complete history of the Jewish and Christian religions The ingenious effort to exhibit the pyramid in the light of a combined Loomis' astronomy, multiplication table, and complete scriptural concordance, is certainly extremely entertaining, but it is by no means so plausible as the rival theory that it was built in in order that at some distant day one of the Field family might enter it and lie down on the dusty sarcophagus of an Egyptian king.

But now comes Mr. Richard Proctor, and sets forth in the pages of the Contemporary Review a new theory, in which he attempts to show that the great pyramid was both an astronomical observatory and a tomb, and that its purpose was to aid in discovering the horoscope of the king who was to be buried in it. The base of the pyramid is an exact square, and its north and south sides are precisely parallel with the equator At a distance of say forty feet from its base, on the north side, there is a narrow passage inclined downward at an angle of, say, 45 degrees which ends in a large chamber At about a third of the distance from the entrance of this passage a second passage branches off which ascends at about the same angle of 45 degrees, and leads to a large chamber in the very center of the pyramid. There are other slight peculiarities in the interior plan of the pyramid, but they need not be here described If we keep in mind the two passages and the two chambers just mentioned, we have sufficient facts before us to illustrate both Mr Proctor's theory and the true theory of the pyramid.

Now, Mr. Proctor is convinced that the sloping passage first mentioned was intended to aid in discovering the north star The Egyptians constructed this passage at such an angle that an observer standing at the lower end of it could see the north star, and accordingly the Egyptian astronomers were in the habit of constantly going to the end of that passage and discovering the star in question. The second passage might have been similarly intended for the discovery of some meritorious star in the southern part of the heavens, had it been carried through the pyramid and out at its south side Mr Proctor therefore, assumes that it was so carried out, but that it was afterward partially blocked up. With the aid of the observations taken through these two passages, the astrologers obtained the data for constructing the royal horoscope whereby Cheops was supplied with information concerning marriage, death stolen goods, absent friends, lucky numbers and all affairs of life. When he died his horoscope was naturally of no further use and therefore he was buried in his pyramid and the sides thereof were incased with polished granite so that the boys of the period could not climb up to the summit

The elaborate theory based on a small quantity of contradictory facts is a curious illustration of the proneness of scientific persons to shut their eyes to what is obvious and to prefer what is far fetched and improbable The real purpose for which the great pyramid was built bears not the slightest resemblance to Mr Proctor's little romance and ought to be plain to every thoughtful observer The pyramid is surrounded by soft sand of great depth, and was originally partially cased with polished stone though of course, a staircase existed at one of its corners. It was built to supply the Egyptian public with the means of sliding down hill in a country where snow never falls The Egyptian who paid the requisite entrance fee was allowed to ascend the pyramid by the staircase, and then to slide down the polished granite side plunging pleasantly and harmlessly into the sand at the foot No sleds or other apparatus were needed. The Egyptian simply sat down on the warm and comfortable granite, and slid down without any unpleasant friction Doubtless, this was a fashionable amusement for both sexes and all ages, and the builders and lessees of the great pyramid sliding-rink must have made a good thing out of it

The interior of the pyramid as its plan proves, was a combined ice-house and beer cellar The ice man had merely to dump his blocks of ice in the first passage and they slid downward into the chamber intended for their reception The second chamber was a vast beer reservoir kept cool by its proximity to the ice chamber Tubes led from it to the bar, which of course, existed outside of the pyramid, and thus ice-cold beer was supplied to the Egyptian public during the hottest weather and let us hope, at popular prices.

We have here a theory which is at once simple and profitable, and which exactly coincides with the known facts as to the construction of the pyramid. The builders certainly deserved a great deal of credit in making the same structures serve for the purpose of sliding down hill and for the preservation of ice and beer in an equal climate To overlook this obvious explanation of the [illegible] of the great pyramid and to construct elaborate and untenable theories connecting it with astronomical and religious affairs is what we might have expected of a scientific person As we [illegible] the day come when science and common sense shall be reconciled

Buyers at points through the valley find it difficult to get hold of wheat which is stored in the warehouses Even those farmers anxious to sell are determined not to let go for less than the standard dollar a bushel besides the sacks and at the prices ruling buyers cannot afford to pay this at remote points from where the cost of transportation is considerable The situation at various places is given on authority of the local press in our news columns.
